Extramural:

Keenan was an active member of the 3D Printing Society in 2021. He has been an integral member of the robotics team for numerous years, contributing constantly to its growth and progress. He has actively participated in multiple First Lego League and First Tech Challenge competitions from 2019 – 2023 with great enthusiasm, and has also been part of various national teams. In his capacity as a senior team member, Keenan has demonstrated exceptional leadership qualities and has provided mentorship to younger peers. His ongoing dedication continues to make him an individual asset to the team.

Other:

Keenan took part in the Physical Sciences Olympiad (2021), the Information Technology Olympiad (2023) and in Mathematics Olympiads (2019 - 2022). Furthermore, he took part in the FFL Regional Competition (2019), the WRO Competition (2020), the FTC National Competition (2022 – 2023).

GENERAL REMARKS

Keenan is a respectful, humble and soft-spoken young man, poised for success. He works hard and shows great commitment to his work, always doing what is expected of him and more. He has high standards of reliability and loyalty. He gets the job done unobtrusively and efficiently, taking initiative and producing work of the utmost quality.

With his pleasing personality, visionary mind and strong character, Keenan is likely to continue to make a fine contribution and prove to be an asset to any future employer. Our best wishes accompany Keenan for his future endeavours, knowing that he will make a special impact wherever he finds himself.
